Education:

University of Ghent, Belgium, Department of Letters and Philosophy: MA in Comparative Science of Cultures (Masters dissertation in English).

Post-graduate: Exchange Program with University of Manitoba studying Native Literature and Natives in Literature.

Trados training.

In addition to translation, I also have extensive experience with proofreading and editing. I am proficient with many software applications, such as Microsoft Word and Office, and I also use Trados 2007 and SDLX Translation Suite. I work in most file formats, including PDF and HTML.

I have also travelled extensively, and, prior to beginning work as a full-time professional freelance translator, I was a purser for Sabena Airlines. This experience enabled me to hone my professional skills, work ethic and appreciation for multiculturalism.

I take great pride in my ability to always maintain a high degree of professionalism in my relationships with my clients, especially valuing excellent communication, meticulous work and prompt and timely delivery.
